Thanksgiving Symbol

The turkey has been a part of Thanksgiving Day picture from the beginning and the proud bird pictured above is a fitting symbol of the occasion.

In view of the conditions in Middle Europe and the Middle East, Americans have much to be thankful for this year. We have freedom. We have peace. We have food, clothing, shelter and luxuries too numerous to mention. We are a fortunate nation, a fortunate people and when families and friends gather together next Thursday in celebration of Thanksgiving, our thanks should come from deep in our hearts.

Sewer Bond Election is Set For December 8

Mokena will have a sewer bond election Dec. 8.

On that date the voters in the village will ballot on a proposal to authorize issuance of $100,000 in general obligation bonds to meet a portion of the cost of construction of a sewer system for Mokena, including a sewage treatment plant.

Date for the election was set by the village board of trustees at a meeting last Thursday night. The board held its regular meeting on Tuesday night of last week and then recessed until last Thursday when an ordinance setting up the bond election was adopted.

The ordinance provides that the bonds shall not carry an interest rate in excess of 4½ per cent.

Village attorney Raymond Hoochman, who prepared the ordinance, said that approval of the bond issue Dec. 8, will not mean immediate sale. The bonds will be sold at an open sale at such time as the money is needed. This delay was decided upon by the board of trustees in order to save interest.

Plans for the sewer system will be prepared as soon as the bond issue has been approved so that bids can be taken by late spring, it was said. Robert Hamilton, of Joliet, is the engineer.

When the bond issue is approved the village board will then file a request thru the Illinois water board for a government grant which has been estimated at $74,500.

It has been estimated that the sewer system and sewage disposal plant will cost approximately $408,350. If the federal grant of $74,500 is forthcoming

William Schellhase Dies at 87 After Lingering Illness

William Schellhase, 87, a Tinley Park area resident for most of his life, died Saturday, Nov. 10, in the Kosary Nursing home in Midlothian, where he was bedridden for the past three years after suffering a series of strokes.

Mr. Schellhase was born in Bremen township Nov. 1, 1869. His family moved to a farm in Frankfort township, then moved back to a farm near Tinley.

In 1895 he married Marie Hoffman, of Chicago. They farmed in the Tinley area until moving to a farm near Mokena. In 1931 they returned to live in Tinley after retiring from farming.

Following the death of his wife, Marie, Feb. 4, 1939, Mr. Schellhase lived alone for 13 years. Due to ill health, he made his home for a time with his daughter, Mrs. Anna Breitbarth and his son William, Jr., in Tinley Park.

Mr. Schellhase is also survived by another daughter, Mrs. Mamie Brandau, of Tinley Park and a son, Walter, of Blue Island; also a brother, Fred Schellhase, and a sister, Dorothy Schellhase, both of Frankfort; also seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Nov. 13, in the Tinley Park Methodist church with the Rev. Glenn Ames officiating. Interment was in the Tinley Park Memorial cemetery.

Billy Jeffries Gets 30 Years For Attack on 5-Year-Old Girl

Billy L. Jeffries, 26, of Lincoln Estates, Frankfort township, has pleaded guilty to the rape of a 5-year-old youngster and has been sentenced to 30 years in the penitentiary.

He entered the plea yesterday before Judge James V. Bartley in the Will county circuit court at Joliet, after a jury had been selected and the taking evidence had begun.

The jury, comprised of three men and nine women, was selected Tuesday and court room observers noticed then that Jeffries became increasingly nervous as the selection of jurors progressed and were predicting that before the evidence was in the defendant would change his plea to one of guilty. The forecast was correct.

Shortly before noon yesterday Jeffries counsel, Public Defender Thomas Vinson, advised the court that the defendant wished to enter a plea of guilty. He did. The jury was dismissed and Judge Bartley sentenced Jeffries to the penitentiary for 30 years, on recommendation of State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, Jr.

Masters stated later that he (Continued to page 3)

No Liquor For Lincolnwood, Board Rules

The petition for reclassification of his property to permit Robert Freiden to operate a bar in connection with his restaurant at Lincolnwood has been denied by the Will county zoning board of appeals.

Freiden can still go before the county board and ask the board's recommendation be denied. Hearing on the petition was held at the Rock Island station in New Lenox last Thursday night.

A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent of Lincoln-Way high school and six members of the high school board were among the 20 persons who appeared as objectors to Freiden's request. Chapman presented a resolution passed by the Lincoln-Way high school board earlier that evening, which outlined the board's stand on the bar license.

The school board opposes the sale of liquor at the Lincolnwood Drive-in because (1) the school bus stops there to pick-up and discharge passengers; (2) the restaurant is used extensively by students, and (3) it is only a half mile from the high school and Schmuhl school.

Six members of the L-W faculty and their families reside in Lincolnwood and they all are opposed to having liquor sold there.

Freiden explained that he did not intend to have a public bar but to operate one in the kitchen to meet the need of diners who may want something with their meals besides water, coffee, tea milk or kindred beverages. He also pointed out that most of the students who patronized the restaurant were chaperoned.

Freiden told the appeals board that he had $50,000 invested in the Lincolnwood Drive-In and that since the place was opened in 1950 it has lost money. He says that unless he can supplement or increase his present business he will be forced to close. Installation of a bar, Freiden believes, would bring an increase in business.

Members of the appeal board were unanimous in their decision. Members are Walter Schupp, Wheatland chairman; R. R. Robinson, Joliet, secretary; Sheldon Hauck, New Lenox; Harold Cooper, Mokena and Samuel Saxon, Plainfield.

GOODWILL TRUCK

The Goodwill Industries truck will be at Frankfort today, Nov. 15, to pick up discarded appliances, furniture or clothing that can be rehabilitated and sold. Persons who would like to have the truck stop to pick up such articles may telephone Frankfort 4902 or 3661.

Faith, hope and work of a valiant few will make this Sunday, Nov. 18, a triumphal day for the Park View Baptist church in Mokena.

Formal dedication of the edifice is to take place Sunday.

It was August 3, 1954 that the Park View church came into being in Mokena. The first meeting was held in the Mokena YrW hall on Wolf road and from that time until the church was completed in September of this year, services have been conducted there each Sunday.

Building a new church is a difficult task for even a large congregation so that what has been accomplished by the congregation of the Park View church is clearly shown by the report on the membership. There are 20 members.

These members, and their friends, not only raised the money to finance the construction but done most of the work themselves. The only money the church now owes is a $10,000 mortgage on a building that is said to be worth five times as much.

The pastor, the Rev. Arthur Contois, pointed out "there is probably not another single fact or which has contributed more to the Park View church than the hospitality of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. This group of men and women offered us the use of their building and refused offers to pay, even for the heat. It is indeed in keeping with one of the fundamental doctrines of our nation, the right and privilege to freedom of worship."

Three services are scheduled for Sunday—Sunday school at 9:45 and regular worship at 11 o'clock in the morning; the formal dedication service at 3:00 in the afternoon and a thanksgiving and praise service in the evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The morning service will mark the dedication of the people thru worship. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Robert Klingberg, secretary of home missions for the Baptist General Conference of America. The Rev. Mr. Contois will lead the service and assist in the dedication responses.

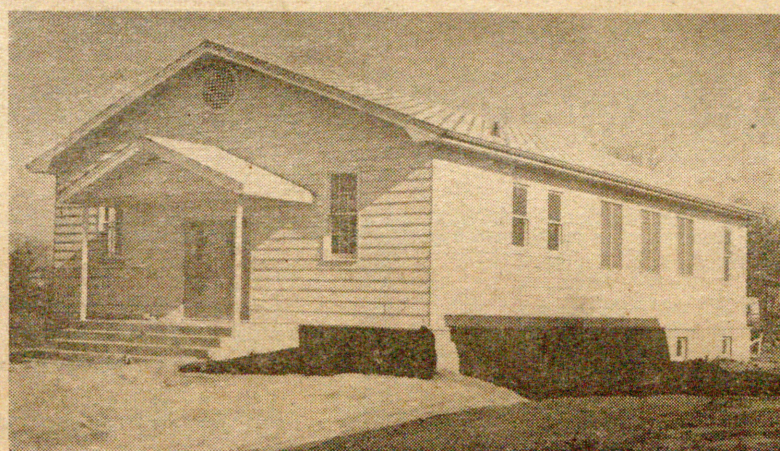

The dedication service in the afternoon will embrace the material as well as the spiritual blessings that have come to the church since its beginning, including lands, building and furnishings.

Special emphasis will be placed on the dedication of the church building itself as a product of the volunteer workmanship of the Park View congregation and their friends. Special mention will be made by the pastor of those who have contributed so generously of their time and talents to make the project a success.

"So many have helped," said Pastor Contois. "Dozens of friends of the congregation have given aid, directly as well as in indirect ways. Technical advice, physical help, contribution of money and material, the good wishes and prayers of many persons in Mokena and adjoining communities have all played im-

Chapman Writes Article For College Organ

Citizenship training is the name of an article written by A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent of Lincoln-Way high school and appeared in the October issue of the Western Illinois State College Bulletin. This article was presented as a speech at Western last summer where Mr. Chapman appeared as a member of a workshop group.

The article traces the development of the Lincoln-Way high school from the time when the territory was a non-high school district to the present time. It emphasizes specifically citizenship training at Lincoln-Way and divides the topic into four main parts.

1. The regular curriculum with special emphasis on the common learnings program, along with the various projects in cooperation with citizens education program and the Illinois curriculum program.

2. The school's extensive club and extra curricular program.

3. Lincoln-Way's group guidance and faculty in-service training program in guidance.

4. Student government.

Some of the practices carried out in each of these four areas during the first two years of the school's history are described.

Scouts Sell First Aid Kits

Starting today, Thursday, Boy Scout Troop 40 will conduct a house to house "Be Prepared for Accidents" campaign in Mokena, and community.

Members of the troop will visit every home in the community. They will present the home owner with a free first aid chart showing approved procedure for dealing with various types of accidents, and will offer to assist the homeowner in checking his first aid supplies to determine whether his home is adequately stocked for accident emergencies.

Where inadequacies are revealed, the members of the troop will be able to offer a selection of first aid kits so that the homeowner may choose the kit that best meets his needs. Kits designed for use inside or outside the home will be available. Auto kits, travel kits suitable for the hunter and fisherman will be included in the selection.

The first aid kits are supplied thru Boleman's drug store. Profits realized on the sale of the kits will be used to meet the costs of the troops camping program.

"We hope our campaign will alert our entire community to the importance of being prepared to give accident injuries prompt first aid," said Arthur Omland, scoutmaster.

Due to Junior's many malicious exploits, the Borsch family is in a continually strained relationship with the neighbors. The action of the play begins early in the first act when Father Borsch presents Junior with a chemistry set in the hope of keeping him off the street and out of the neighbor's hair. Dad succeeds amazingly well. All of Junior's efforts are directed into the chemistry set. After he becomes acquainted with the set, Junior makes a startling discovery which Daddy, when he com-

BILLY JEFFRIES—

(Continued from page 1) was willing to accept the guilty on the 30-year basis because he did not have any direct proof against the defendant and would have had to rely on circumstantial evidence.

The only direct evidence that could have been given would have been the testimony of the 5-year-old victim. Her parents would not let her testify, on advice of their physician. The physician said that unless something else occurred to fix the experience more firmly in her mind, he expected that the child would forget it in time. But, if she were called to testify it would mean she would have to be questioned at considerable length and the incident would be fixed so firmly in her mind that it could have a lasting effect.

State's Attorney Masters did not wish to have anything like that occur and so decided against calling the child as a witness. That left him with only circumstantial evidence because anything the child told her parents, the doctor who examined her or law enforcement officials, would be hearsay and could not be repeated to the jury.

Jeffries had been denying the charge of rape, but had admitted, according to the state's attorney, of having taken indecent liberties with the child.

Because of the technicalities involved, Masters had the grand jury recalled, and a true bill charging Jeffries with indecent liberties with a child, was returned. A new indictment charging rape was also voted because the original true bill carried Jeffries first name as William and he says that it is Billy.

Points like that can rise to plague a prosecutor so Masters acted to get them out of the way.

Thirty years, incidentally, is one of the heaviest sentences meted out for rape in Will and adjoining counties for many years. Masters was congratulated.

Masters is now preparing a statement that will be forwarded to the penitentiary. Jeffries probably will be delivered to prison next week. Before he can be taken there by sheriff's deputies Circuit Clerk Paul V. Wunder must prepare a mittimus, the order on which Jeffries will be held in prison.

Under the law dealing with a flat sentence, such as has been imposed on Jeffries, he is entitled to apply for parole after he has served a third of the sentence—in this case 10 years. This does not mean that he is entitled to get a parole, but that he can ask for one. With time off for good behavior Jeffries can serve all of the sentence in 20 years. However, before he can be released, either on parole or expiration of sentence, he must pass a psychiatric examination.

If such an examination should show him to be a sexual psychopath criminal then he would not be released but transferred to the security hospital for the criminal insane at Menard and held there until such time as psychiatrists believed him to be ready for discharge.

Jeffries picked up the child at the home of a relative on the pretext that he was going to take her home. Instead he is alleged to have raped her and then took her to his home.

Jeffries fled and Sheriff Roy Doerfler obtained a warrant charging him with flight to avoid prosecution. This was turned over to the FBI and agents of that organization picked Jeffries up a few days later at Pensacola, Fla.

Ask Hunters To Be Careful Not To Start Fires

Grass fires have been keeping Mokena firemen busy this week. There were two in Brightwood, west of the village, one Monday night and one Tuesday morning. Tuesday night firemen were called to the home of Max Bottema, Woodland Circle, and yesterday afternoon they responded to an alarm at the George Abbe farm, north of Mokena, where a cornfield was on fire.

Firemen urge the public to use care in disposing of cigarette ends or pipe dottle. The drought has left fields dry as tinder and a careless discarded cigaret, match or some form of fire is dangerous.

Motorists can start fires in this manner, it was pointed out, and hunters are another source of danger. There are certain areas in the state so dry that hunting is forbidden for fear of fire. Grass can be ignited by gunshots but the big danger, of

Enrollment in County Schools Show Gains

The reason why most of the school boards in Will county continue to be faced with financial problems is quite simple, it was pointed out by County Supt. Verne E. Crackel—revenues have not kept pace with enrollments.

The recommended number of pupils for a room is 30 so that the increase in enrollment this year over last of 2,904 can be interpreted as approximately 100 class rooms, or about 10 schools.

According to figures released by Supt. Crackel the total enrollment in grade and high schools—public and parochial—this year is 35,490. This includes 640 in Junior college at Joliet but does not take in the number of students in the College of St. Francis.

The public elementary school enrollment this fall is 26,990 as compared with 25,039 in the fall term of 1955. The elementary enrollment in the parochial schools this fall was 8,348 as compared to 8,105 last year.

Figures for the public high schools of the county show an enrollment of 6,658 in comparison with 5,913 in 1955. Parochial high school enrollment this year is 1,842 as compared to 1,634 in 1955.

There is one parochial high school for girls in the Mokena area, Sacred Heart, and one public high school, Lincoln-Way. Sacred Heart has 31 pupils, two more than last year, and Lincoln-Way has 550 or 69 more than in the fall of 1955.

The Mokena public school enrollment moved up from 264 to 275 and is quite overcrowded but this situation will be relieved when the new school is completed. It is expected that the new school will be ready around the first of the year.

St. Mary's parochial school in Mokena had a substantial increase in the number of pupils—from 158 last year to 205 this fall. Then enrollment at St. Jude in New Lenox had an increase of five, from 168 to 173.

The birth rate continues to grow, it was pointed out so the need for expansion of school facilities will continue to be a problem for communities.

The birth rate received considerable impetus in the days of World War two and the effect is beginning to be felt now in the high schools. High school enrollment will continue to show substantial increases from now on until the birth rate levels off, it was stated.

3 Will County Residents File Stock Entries

First entries from Will county for the 57th International live stock exposition, Nov. 23 to Dec. 1, made by Ruder's Valley View Farm, owned by I. A. Ruder of Monee, and by two farm girls of the county.

Ruder has entered purebred Hereford cattle, all sired by a famous show winner, Portage Mixer 23rd, the Reserve Champion Hereford bull at the 1953 Chicago Exposition.

Norma Krumiede, of Peotone, and Jean Ann Meyer, of Manhattan, both 14 years old, will show animals of their own raising in junior show competitions at Chicago. Their Angus steers were high ranking prizes winners at the Will county fair last summer.

Put New Life in Old Alfalfa With Fall Top-Dressing

NEW life can be put into old alfalfa fields with a top-dressing this fall of phosphate-potash fertilizer, reports the Middle West Improvement Committee.

Many of these fields have produced abundant hay crops during the spring and summer. As a result, a heavy drain has been made on the soil's reserves of phosphate and potash. So replenishment is needed in the form of plant food.

How much fertilizer to add, and what ratio to use, can be determined by a soil test that will give an idea of the soil's reserves of phosphate and potash, the committee points out.

On many Midwestern soils, agronomists recommend adding a fertilizer mixture such as 0-10-30, or 0-9-27 at the rate of 300 to 500 pounds per acre. If a test indicates the soil is low both in phosphate and potash, then a ratio such as 0-20-20 may be profitable.

If a boron deficiency occurs, some soils men advise applying about 30 pounds of borax per acre in addition to the phosphate-potash fertilizer.

One of the big benefits of top-dressing alfalfa fields in the fall is that the plant food helps the legumes store up nutrients in their roots. Strong, well-fed roots anchor themselves more solidly in the soil and come through severe winter weather in better shape.

"BLINKERS" READ FASTER

Are you a "blinker?" If you are, chances are you're a better than average reader. According to statistics from the Murine Company of Chicago, good readers blink more often than poor ones. It is generally believed that the blinks make it possible to ignore non-essential objects, such as punctuation marks and other gaps in the text. Normal persons seem to blink at about the rate of 25 times a minute.

FEATURE ENGINEERING FIRSTS IN NEW LARGER STUDEBAKER

SOUTH BEND, IND. — A new luxury-level ride, new driving control on slippery roads, increased passing power and acceleration are top features of the Studebaker sedans for 1957. The 225-horsepower President Classic (top picture) leads the low-price line of 11 models of two-and-four-door sedans in the President, Commander and Champion series. New body type of Studebaker is the 4-door Broadmoor (above) which expands the company's station wagon series to a choice of four models. With the rear seat down, the Broadmoor has a 65-cubic foot loading capacity.

Almost two inches longer, (station wagons are six inches longer), the re-styled models feature two major engineering advancements which are automotive firsts in the low price class. New developments are the variable rate front coil spring, which provides an exceptionally smooth and level ride over rough surfaces as standard sedan equipment and the non-slip twin-traction safety differential with V-8 engine models. This gives the driver more control under slippery or adverse road conditions by shifting engine power to the rear wheel with the best traction.

The big design of the sedans and station wagons is in sharp contrast to the long, low styling of the Hawk sports-type line. Non-fading finned brake drums, dashboard padding, new recessed steering wheel post, and double socket rear view mirrors are among standard equipment items on the 1957 President Classic.

Baby's Aid

Why do babies like mother's milk?

And, why does mother's milk like babies?

Scientists now say the answer lies in enzymes, which help speed up digestion.

Recent research studies reveal that mother's milk contains four to five times as much enzyme activity as cow's milk. In effect, those extra enzymes provide a "booster" for baby's digestion, his enzyme output being very low at this stage of his life cycle.

Today, cow's milk is being treated — or, "protein-conditioned" — with enzymes. Tests show that it contains substantially the same amount of enzymes as mother's milk. It is reported to be as good — and in some cases better — for baby than mother's milk.

It's a time saver for mother, since the enzyme-treated milk can be home delivered by the family milkman. All mother does is warm it up to feeding temperature.

Like infants, oldsters sometimes have trouble digesting milk because of diminished enzyme production. For this reason, enzyme-treated milk agrees with them, too.

How to Make Thanksgiving Day Different

By J. L. Walsh
(Paulist Feature Service)

Just about every American family that can afford it will have a big Thanksgiving Day dinner this year.

These families will celebrate the day in three different ways.

The first family, we'll call them Joneses, will have a meal that's almost big enough to break the table. Thanksgiving is a big day for them; all the family's home, and they really do it up big. Everything is different: dishes, silver, food. Or almost everything, that is. If you look closely at the Thanksgiving you'll see the meal begins the way their meals always do. Everyone is courteous and well-mannered of course, but no one is praying. No one offers a prayer of thanks. The Joneses have made a big celebration of Thanksgiving Day but they've forgotten what makes Thanksgiving Day a different day.

At the Smith's, our second family, more than food makes the difference. At the beginning of the meal, Mr. Smith nervously clears his throat a few times and begins a prayer he hasn't said in a year, while everyone uncomfortably shifts his feet and flushes a little red. Praying at meals is something different at the Smith's and anyone can see it. But at least the day doesn't go by without some effort to thank God for all His blessings.

With the Brown's, our third typical family, nothing seems different at all. The meal may be larger than usual and there may be more people around the table. But not even the guests seem uncomfortable as Mr. Brown begins the prayer and everyone bows his head. If they have been to the Brown's before they know that every meal begins and ends with a prayer of thanks.

If we were able to observe the Browns, and people like them, a little more closely, I think that we would find Thanksgiving really was different for them. I think we would find that they gave thanks not just at mealtime, but all day long. I think we would find that they had gone to church that morning and offered a sacrifice of thanksgiving to their Creator and Redeemer. We would find them sincerely grateful for all that God had given them. Not just for a big meal, but for sending His Son to redeem them, for the truth and the grace to save their souls and enjoy eter-

Fruit Cake Tid-Bits

When you entertain for fall, treat your guests to refreshment snacks made the easy way. Glamorous fruit cake tid-bits with delicate toppings and garnish, taste as good as they look, and make a proud finale to a festive dinner or fall open house.

Old English type fruit cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department will lend color as well as flavor to your table when you garnish with the same bits of red or green cherries, nuts and bright pieces of pineapple which fill the cake itself. Toppings for the squares or finger shapes may include any of your favorites from melted dot chocolate sprinkled with coconut or chopped nuts to cream cheese. The cream cheese may be put through a pastry tube or simply spread with a knife. Cutting the fruit cake is particularly easy if you chill the cake first and use a sharp knife, wiping it off with a moist cloth after each slice.

An appealing accompaniment for the fruit cake tid-bits, particularly if you are entertaining for the teen-aged branch of the family, is tangy apple cider given a special twist with a stick of cinnamon.

Whom will you be like this Thanksgiving; the Joneses, the Smiths, or the Browns. It all depends on how you use your opportunity to make this Thanksgiving Day a different day.

You should expect to renew natural wood exterior finishes about once a year, says a University of Illinois farm structures specialist.

Bremen VFW

The Nov. 5 meeting of the Auxiliary to the Bremen VFW welcomed into their membership Winnie Mae Weaver as Bessie Seeley handled the business of the evening.

Attending the Veterans Administration orientation course for volunteer workers at Hines hospital on Oct. 25 were Mesdames: Elliott, Morrison, Seeley and Steinhagen. Chief of Special Service, D. L. LaRocque spoke to the group of volunteers. In the first six months of 1956, 1,500 workers had put in 57,000 hours of work. They came from 73 different communities. The services of these volunteers are greatly appreciated and it enables the administration to provide the best possible service to the hospitalized veterans.

Donations of reading material, cigarettes or men's clothing is greatly in demand. Call Gladys Elliott for further information. Kay May senior vice president, is busy with the membership drive.

There will be no meeting on Nov. 20 as that is the date for the Card and Bunco party at the post club rooms. Dec. 4 has been set for the next business meeting.

Woman's Club Cancels Meeting at Orland Park

Mrs. Karl Ekberg, president of Orland Park Woman's club held a board meeting, Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 7 at which time it was decided to cancel plans for the Nov. meeting as it falls on Thanksgiving when most of the members had holiday plans.

There were several requests for contributions from organizations, one request coming from Mrs. E. J. Heckel, president Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, for a treasury gift to the 1957 March of Dimes. As $22.50 would pay for the average day's hospitalization for one polio victim, members agreed to contribute this amount.

Lincoln lodge, the Cancer Prevention center, the YMCA and the Orland Park Volunteer Fire department will also receive contributions.

A letter of resignation from Mrs. Herbert Tappenbeck, recording secretary was accepted.

Mrs. Ekberg, Mrs. Ross Vondedsmith, Mrs. Fred Blackstone, Mrs. Robert Horn and Miss Augusta Peterson attend the third district, Federation of Women's club meeting, Monday, Oct. 29 at Ridge Park field house.

Wednesday, Dec. 5, the members and friends who have been preparing dressing etc. for the special program of the American Cancer society, will meet at the home of Mrs. Ekberg at 10 a.m.

CORRECTION

Last week there was an item concerning the father and son dinner of Boy Scout Troop 255 of Tinley Park. The item stated that Chief of Police Harold Moore was there as a representative of the VFW post at Tinley and as such he announced that the first boy in Troop 255 to gain the Eagle Scout badge would be sent to the national Scout Jamboree next summer. According to the information given the Tinley Park Times, the VFW was to send the boy to the jamboree. This week Chief Moore says there was an error. It is the police department that will pay the boy's expenses, not the VFW, he said.

Now that the big election is over, duck hunters are once again turning their thoughts to the outdoors. One thing they've learned—a lot of walking can be saved by using an outboard motor—choice spots are a lot easier reached.

There are few places where hunting is good that cannot be reached by outboard—the same used by fishermen. You can move along the shore of a lake—or downstream searching for a select spot. You'll be less tired and chances are that your bag for the day will be better as a result.

Today's finely engineered outboards get a fellow going in no time at all—even on the chilliest mornings. You just hop into the boat, give the cord a pull and you're off! No more tramping through the fields for hours at a time, hoping and waiting.

Make sure, tho, that your boat fits the blind. If it doesn't, it makes shooting difficult and even dangerous. A blind that fits a boat will give you better footing for the important shooting when the ducks are overhead.

Another important reason for using a boat is that it can be made almost as comfortable as your own living room—and, believe me, that's important when a fellow is sitting out there in the cold, gray dawn—waiting and waiting and waiting. Take along a couple of cushions, and, if you want, a small charcoal stove—it can be fitted into the boat. You'll be cozy and warm while you're waiting for those ducks to come along—and that's a lot better than wading thru icy water out to a cold blind—anytime!

Every Team in S. W. Loop is Represented; Coaches Make Choice

Coaches of the Southwest Suburban conference have chosen their all-star team for the 1956 football season.

As could be expected Oak Lawn, conference champion, placed more men on the dream team than any other school. Three Oak Lawn men were selected, two linemen and a back.

Its neighbor, Reavis high, which tied for second with Rich in the conference standings, has two men on the team, an end and a back, as did Rich, a center and a back.

Bremen which finished next to bottom, also placed two men on the all-conference team, an end and a back.

Lincoln-Way, Sandburg and Evergreen Park, are each represented by one man, Lincoln-Way and Evergreen with tackles and Sandburg with a quarterback.

The team follows:
Avalo, Bremen, end.
Lawandowski, Reavis, end.
Woodward, L-W, tackle.
Petrokovich, Evergreen Park, tackle.

Rykaczewski, Oak L. guard.
Pedigo, Oak L. guard.
Petullo, Rich, center.
Chatlosh, Sandburg, back.
Stalmach, Bremen, back.
Franci, Reavis, back.
Collier, Oak L., back.
Buchmeier, Rich, back.

Because the conference was loaded with fine backfield material this season the coaches found it difficult to hold their selections to four and added the fifth.

CONFESSION? — Ask The Man Who Goes There!

Catholics go to Confession to a priest for one reason only: to obtain divine forgiveness for their sins.

But why, you ask, go to a priest? Why not confess our sins directly to God?

Ask the man who goes to Confession and here's what he will tell you. Sin is an offense against God; it must be forgiven by God. It is God, not man, who determines how forgiveness must be obtained. Christ plainly pointed this out when He empowered His Apostles and their successors to forgive sins or to refuse forgiveness.

"Whose sins you shall forgive," Christ said, "they are forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they are retained" (John 20:21-23). Thus Christ authorized the Apostles, and their successors, to pardon or to deny pardon as they judge the sinner worthy or unworthy. To do this they had to know what they were forgiving... the secret dispositions of the sinner... his sorrow and willingness to repair the wrong done to his neighbor by his sins. Who could make this known but the sinner himself—and what is this but Confession?

But Confession—the Sacrament of Penance—is only one of the seven Sacraments Christ left in His Church. Yes, seven—no more and no less! Christ's religion is not merely a message to be accepted, but a life to be lived—from the cradle to the grave. Christ's seven Sacraments are the answer to man's seven basic needs.

Man is born, but he needs to be reborn a Christian in the Sacrament of Baptism. He is nourished, but he needs Christian nourishment in Holy Communion, the Sacrament of the Eucharist. He grows, but he needs to grow and be strengthened in Christian life by the Sacrament of Confirmation. He is cured of disease, but he needs a remedy for sin, so destructive of Christian life, and this he finds in the Sacrament of Penance.

Man lives in society which needs officials to promote the common good—and for his life in the Church, he finds officials provided by the Sacrament of Orders. He perpetuates the human race in marriage, which Christ made the Sacrament of Matrimony. And at death, he needs consolation and strength for the last dread hour which he finds in the Last Anointing—the Sacrament of Extreme Unction.

Would you like to know more about each of the seven Sacraments? How they can help you to meet the seven basic needs of your life? Then write today for a free pamphlet which gives important information concerning them. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-5.

MISS SLICK CHICK'S QUESTION BOX

Mrs. Housewife:

what is a blood spot?

Miss Slick Chick:

A blood spot is a rupture of a small blood vessel at the time the egg breaks away from the ovary. One belief is it is caused by frightening a hen before the egg is laid and another belief is that it is a hereditary weakness in some hens. Blood spotting normally increases as production continues during the first laying year. A blood spot does not affect the edibility of the egg. Candling will not detect all blood spots, but it will show up most of them.

STECH'S "FARM FRESH EGGS"

are all candled. They are laid by confined hens, selected from the best strains, to eliminate all the blood spots possible.

80 Turn Out for Basketball at Sandburg: Must Build New Team

With the coming of November, preparations are under way for the current cage season. Workouts began on Nov. 5, with the largest turnout in Carl Sandburg's history. Approximately 80 boys reported for the initial practice.

With the loss, by graduation, of its two all-conference players—Don Gee and Ron Weingartner—plus two other regulars, the Sandburg varsity faces an almost complete rebuilding job.

Veteran guard Lee Marten, 5'10", returning regular, plus lettermen Bill Beck, 6'2" center and Craig Reuter, 6'1" forward, form the nucleus of the group striving for positions on the starting five.

Several seniors with varsity experience are making a strong bid for playing berths. This group includes Darrell Erickson, 6' guard; Pat Flavin, 5'11" forward; Jim Peterson, 6'1" forward; Meador Hill, 5'9" guard.

Among the promising juniors reporting are Dick Aird, 6'1" forward; John Arnold 6'4" center; Mark Hill, 6'5" center; Dennis Graninger, 6'1" forward; Pat Ford, 5'7" guard, Gary Bressi, 5'10" guard; Ted Allen, 6'3" forward; Richard Russman, 6'4" center; and Jay Morlock 5'8" guard. This group comprised the Southwest Suburban co-champion frosh-soph team of last year.

Last year's varsity finished in second place in the Southwest Suburban conference with an overall season record of 18 wins and 7 losses. With better team balance, greater height, more speed, and a good deal more depth, this squad is expected to end the season showing an improvement over last year's good record.

This year's varsity basketball schedule is as follows:

New Studebaker Line on Display At Palos Park

The 1957 Studebaker line is now on display at the Palos Auto Service, 119th and Harlem ave.

Considered as the lead model in the Studebaker-Packard sedan line in the low price field is the 225-horsepower President Classic.

The new models are longer by about two major engineering advancements as automotive firms in their price class.

One of these changes is a front coil spring that is said to give a "luxury-level" ride over rough roads and the other is the non-slip twin-traction safety differential. This gives the driver better control under slippery or adverse road conditions by shifting power to the wheel with the best traction.

The 1957 Studebaker line has 11 models of two-and-four-door sedans in the President, Commander and Champion series, plus four types of station wagons which for the first time include four-door jobs.

The sedans are big and in sharp contrast to the Hawk line or sport-type cars.

1st Grade Pupils to Present Program For Education Week

To mark American Education Week, the first grade of the Mokena Public school will entertain parents and friends in the education room of the Mokena Methodist church at 1:15 p.m. Friday, Nov. 16.

The children will sing several selections and present rhythm band numbers.

A demonstration of the students' work will be displayed.

Because of the crowded condition of the public school, no program has been planned at the school for American Education Week. However, parents are welcome to visit the school at any time.

The new school being built is expected to be ready for occupancy by the first of next year.

The milk that Illinois school children will drink under the Special School Milk Program during 1956 would make a solid row of half-pint cartons from Chicago to Los Angeles and back again.

NEED MORE PRECINCTS

The vote in Frankfort township in the general election Nov.
5 was a heavy one—2,135 out of a possible 2,706, or 78 plus per cent.

For the benefit of those who like statistics—and there are those who do—the figure 2,706 represents the total registration in the township as shown the records of County Clerk Joseph Hartley. Of this number 1,381 are registered in the second precinct, or Mokena, and 1,325 in the first precinct or Frankfort.

The vote cast in the township at election this year was divided as follows:

In Frankfort 960
In Mokena 1175

Thus approximately 72 percent of those registered in the first precinct voted while the number who cast ballots in Mokena amounted to 85 per cent.

Besides showing a marked interest in public and government affairs the election returns for Frankfort township also show the need for more polling places.

The judges and clerks of election in Mokena did not complete their task until almost 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The election force at Frankfort with some 200 less votes to count finished its job earlier but it was still an all night affair.

The law says that a precinct should not have more than 600 voters. There are, of course, many precincts in Will county with more than this number.
Twenty three precincts were added to the number in Will county this fall, making the total now 125. Two of these additional precincts came from a new division of New Lenox township.

Frankfort township should be

Boy Scouts of Troop 40 have just recently held their charter revue and renewed their Troop charter for the coming year.
They have qualified for the "Onward for God and My Country" award, "National Camping" and "Conservation" award. October was a busy month with a Hallowe'en party and a new type of hike, with directions in Morse code, to be translated and preparedness plan is in the planning stage.

Garden Methodist church, Rev.

sent out a questionnaire to all persons in the surrounding area

Not a Drum, But Plenty of Drumsticks

A lot of potential Thanksgiving dinners were photographed on the Ray Walsh farm, three miles south and a mile east of Frankfort in Green Garden township, and Mr. and Mrs. Walsh who are shown here on the fringe of the flock say there will be goodly supply on hand for Christmas too. Turkeys are difficult to raise and the process of getting them thru all the stages from egg to platter.

to ascertain how many would like to work close to home.

The bank is endeavoring to interest a national known manufacturing firm to locate a modern office and factory in the Frankfort-New Lenox area.

According to the bank the company would employ from 250 to 300 persons, men and women, semi-skilled workers would be needed for the factory and then of course there would be office help.

It is said that working conditions would be excellent, with paid vacation, hospitalization, insurance and other liberal employee benefits.

Exact addresses and names of present employer are not necessary nor need the person who fills out the questionnaire sign it.

The form asks for the sex and age of the person filling it out hourly wage; whether they his or her place of residence, would be interested in working where they work, the type of closer to home and whether they work they do, their approximate prefer day or night work.

Christian Persons

Lesson for November 18, 1956

WHICH is more important, what a person is or what he does? According to Jesus, what a person is, is the main thing. These two cannot be separated. On the one hand a person does what he does because he is the kind of person he is; on the other hand a person cannot be the kind of character Jesus describes, without doing. The ideal character, as Jesus draws it, is not to be grown in a hot-house nor in a cellar like mushrooms. An ideal person develops only in a world of persons. But let us see. Every one of what we call the eight "Beatitudes" or "Blessed's" needs very careful study. All one thin column can do is to call attention to a very general way to three facts about Christian persons as Jesus pictures them here. Perhaps no actual Christian every fully matches the picture, the ideal; but the more a Christian resembles this description, the more these three facts will be true about him.

Dr. Foreman

A Christian Is Happy

Again and again in reading the Bible we come to something that shows what nonsense it is to think of the Christian life, the God-pleasing life, as a sort of prison existence. God's requirements are not like chains, weights, handcuffs, barbed wire, electric fences. They are what makes life truly free and strong. When Jesus describes the ideal—God's ideal—character, in these Beatitudes, he begins every sentence with the word which though often translated "blessed" was the regular ordinary word for "happy." Some people get the whole business of what it means to be a Christian, sadly twisted. They think: What a Christian has to do and be is not pleasant; but he grits his teeth and goes through with his hard task bravely, knowing that God will one day reward him for his life of martyrdom. Not at all. According to Jesus, the ideal character is the one that finds real joy in becoming more and more like our Father in heaven. Your real athlete is the man who enjoys sports. Your real artist is the person who loves to paint or write, not the man who writes or paints only because he has to, to make money. Your real cook is the man or woman who enjoys cooking, not the one who feels like a martyr over a kitchen range. So your real Christian is the one who is happy being one.

Christian Life Flows Outward

A second fact about the Christian life is that it is not self-centered but flows outward. It is not like a swamp into which streams flow without ever finding an outlet; it is more like a mountain lake, fed by fresh springs and kept fresh because its water flow on in a sparkling river. A person cannot be truly good if he lives to himself and for himself. Consider how many of the Beatitudes could be true of a hermit living on an island apart from other people. Very few, if any. A selfish Christian is a contradiction in terms. "Love thy neighbor as thyself" is a commandment older than Christianity; but Christ himself approved it. "What do I get?" is not the Christian's first question, but "How may I help?" This does not mean that a good Christian is a kind of meddlesome Mattie, running around sticking his finger into other people's affairs. It does mean that in the countless human contacts which he has everyday, as well as in his whole life-plan, he will not think of the world of men as merely an orange which is his to squeeze.

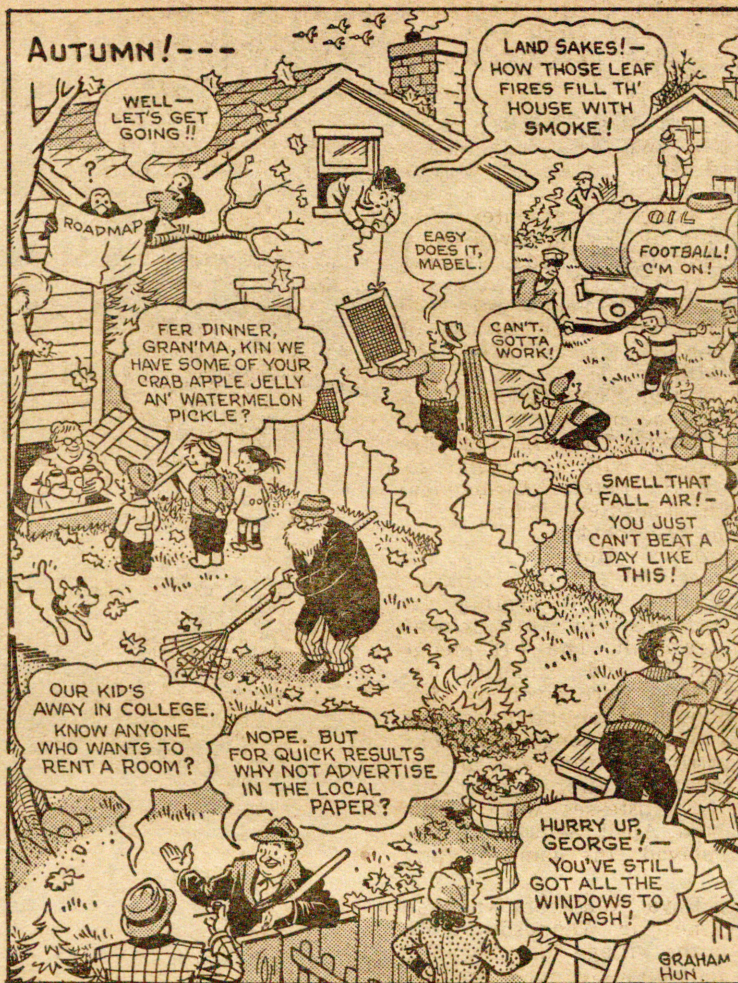

Out of Line?

Now a man from Mars might think that Christians would be the most popular people in the world. Everybody would love them and want them around. As a matter of fact, we have to remember that Jesus himself was bitterly hated and finally crucified. In the Beatitudes themselves there is the prediction that "all manner of evil" things will be said of Christ's followers. The simple, ugly reason for this is that this is a world still mostly out of line with God, which in other words means out of line with Love. The true Christian will always seem somewhat out of line with this world. If all men speak well of you, there must be something wrong with you.

Farm families thruout the county were saddened by the death of Ezra McClaughy last week. "Mac" as he was affectionately called by his many friends, was formerly a member of the Board of Directors of the Cook county farm bureau, and later with the insurance service.

He had been active in agricultural affairs in this county for over 50 years, and could undoubtedly call more people by their first names than anyone I have ever known. He leaves close friends in every township in this county.

With large investments and small profit margins in a competitive agriculture, a farmer must have good farm records to study his business. He cannot afford the risk of making bad decisions.

Colder weather and high egg production increase the wet-litter problem. Adjust ventilation frequently, establish a deep litter and use well designed waterers to help reduce this problem.

Lists Signs And Portents For Lovelorn

John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University
For a long time it has been customary for young folks to fall into love, become engaged, and get married. Despite the many casualties that have occurred along the matrimonial highway, the practice remains popular; in fact, its popularity seems to increase.

Last year, according to a magazine article at hand, there were approximately one and a half million marriages in the United States. During the same interval, however, some 400,000 couples were unmarried, that is divorced. Though the net gain was great, the divorce rate was staggering, there being about 27 divorces for each hundred marriages. This high casualty rate came about despite the well-intentioned services of marriage counsellors, social workers, ministers, friendly judges, writers of "advice to the lovelorn" columns, and a host of others that might be grouped under the general classification of "dogooders". Observing the failure of so many to achieve the domestic happiness desired, it was decided to look about for some untapped source of guidance.

A neglected stockpile of purported wisdom soon was found in the mass of half-forgotten folklore once in common circulation in Southern Illinois and relating to love, courtship and marriage. In fact it was then in general circulation everywhere.

The amount of lore clustering about love, courtship and marriage is voluminous. As this is written, 832 signs and sayings already have been found. There may be as many more. Even if not so helpful as they might be, this new stockpile should provide materials to somewhat relieve the monotony of the usual stock answers.

It is not possible here to classify and organize the signs and sayings that have come to attention. The best that can be done is to offer spot samplings. First, it should be known that these gems of wisdom are generally offered for the guidance of girls. Obviously, the boy always has been deemed the more fortunate one, no matter what the fates dealt out to him. After all, he was considered the hunted.

It might be well to use a few of the many available bits of guidance in a logical way. For instance, if a girl is definitely marked to be an old maid, she could recognize that fact early, reconcile herself to the fate awaiting her, and cease worrying. Such action would also prevent her complicating the situation for other girls with a kinder fate in store.

Here are some signs of approaching spinsterhood which every young woman should know: The aspiring young lass must not scorch the clothes being ironed. If setting the table, she must be careful not to place two forks at the same plate. This fork dictum evidently originated before the advent of salad, pickle, oyster, olive and other forks now available. Should the young lady decide to make coffee, she must not look into the boiling pot. When time comes to drink coffee, she must not curl her little finger while holding the cup; nor must she sit on her foot; neither must she "dunk" her bread or cake. If she drops and breaks a cup, her fate is definitely sealed.

Girls hoping to marry must not develop a fondness for cats. If they bake bread, and they often did years ago, they must not let it burn. At meals they must not take the last piece of bread or cake. Some held that taking the next to last biscuit (see dictionary) would blight matrimonial prospects. With these and about 50 other warning signs, it was indeed a rugged course that awaited the ambitious girl.

On the other hand there were some good signs. If a bird flew into the house and the young lady of the house saw it first, she would marry before the year's end. Feeding a cat from an old shoe helped along toward marriage. If a cat, for which the aspiring maiden must form no liking, washed its face and immediately after looked at her, all would be well. There were other good signs to cheer the maid along, not so many good as bad, however.

In those cases where signs had not definitely assigned spinsterhood as her lot, the question of "just who" naturally arose. Could she pick and choose or should she be satisfied with less than her choice? Willing to meet requirements, the choice was hers. If she could, with thumbs and fingers alone, split an apple into halves, no man could escape her grasp. Lacking the physical strength indicated, a weaker girl could eat a four-leaf clover and acquire the coveted power. If clover were out of season, she could walk, unassisted, seven lengths of railroad iron without stepping off. If neither railroad irons or four-leaf clovers were at hand, she could eat the raw heart of a chicken or, better yet, one from a duck.

For those with squeamish appetites, a milder remedy could be employed. A feather from the tail of a rooster could be secreted in the glove of her hand-shaking hand. If she could then contrive to shake the hand of the desired one, he became her pawn. There were other ways.

These are only a few samplings of the bountiful lore related to love, courtship and marriage. There were signs and sayings to guide at every turn. Perhaps the wisdom embodied in these bits of old lore could provide new thought for those who would advise. At least they are different. Some, however, will ignore all suggestions and later listen only to the voice of experience.

Eight to ten weeks is the average life of the housefly.

Fall-Fed Pastures Give More Grass, Extra Proteins

CATTLE can have extra days of grazing this fall and an earlier start on fields next spring when permanent pastures are top-dressed with fertilizer this fall, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Fertilized pastures get off to a quicker start in the spring and usually produce more grass per acre and more protein per pound of grass, according to studies by Midwestern agronomists.

Some agronomists say that fall application of fertilizer are preferable to spring applications in many respects, because of the firmer footing for trucks and spreaders.

Earlier pasturing in the spring on fall-fertilized fields can mean important savings on feed bills.

Bluegrass stays palatable later in the summer when it is well

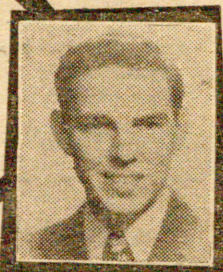

Extra grazing days, plus thicker, higher-quality grass come from fall-fertilized permanent pastures.

fertilized and it recovers earlier in the fall for precious extra days of grazing.

In tests on 58 farm pastures in Wisconsin, the use of fall-applied fertilizer returned $63 per acre after deducting the cost of fertilizer, according to C. J. Chapman, extension soils specialist.

The pastures received a fall application of 500 pounds per acre of 10-10-10 fertilizer, containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash. Each of the plots yielded an average of 3,562 extra pounds of dry matter per acre from two clippings. Chapman says this increased yield represented a return of $3.50 for every dollar invested in fertilizer.

In spite of the fact we are all bemoaning the fact that soil moisture is deficient, the weather permitted speedy harvest of crops. The dry condition of corn stalks caused more trash to be mixed with the corn, but farmers were able to pick every day.

Herbert Kohl, who farms in Rich township, told me he and his brother Alvin of Mokena, picked corn for three solid weeks without interruption.

Crop yields were somewhat above average this year.

C. W. Paarlberg reported an excellent carrot yield on his farm in Bloom Township north east of Chicago Heights. The carrots were all of high quality and easily cleaned due to dry condition of the soil.

Earl Siemsen, Tinley Park, Charles Fletcher and I harvested the grain sorghum variety trial last week. The heads will be sent to the University of Illinois for threshing and yield determination.

It's as quiet as a contented cat and as smooth as cream . . . and it's cat-quick in response when you call for action!

No household tabby sitting in a sunny window ever purred more softly than Chevy's new V8 engine. You can scarcely tell when it's idling.

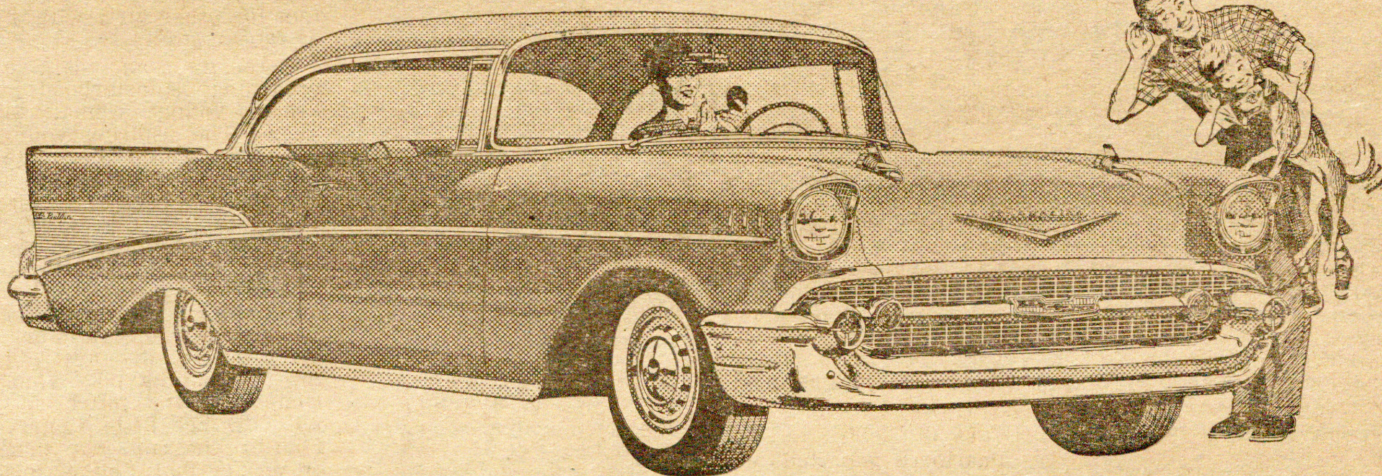

But when you nudge the accelerator, you know it's there, all right! Its right-now response keeps you out of highway emergencies. It overpowers steep hills with such ease they seem like level landscape.

This new Chevrolet V8 puts up to 245 high-compression horsepower* under your command! It's sassy, sure—but as tame to your touch as a purring pussycat. Come try the smoothest V8 you ever put a toe to.

*270-h.p. V8 also available at extra cost. Also Ramjet fuel injection engines with up to 283 h.p.

that purr you hear is no pussycat!

Sweet, smooth and sassy! The Bel Air Sport Coupe with Body by Fisher.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Food and Lodging

Good food and lodging make your tour more pleasant. You can be sure of both if you follow these simple rules:

Pick a restaurant endorsed by some recognized association — the more, the better. Chances are the place is good, too, if it's the meeting place of local fraternal groups.

Another tip-off on the restaurant's quality is the appearance of the waiter's uniform and the condition of the wash-rooms. A good restaurant will maintain high standards throughout.

If you have any doubts, ask to see the kitchen. Don't be afraid of being fussy. The better you eat, the better you feel — and the better your trip will be.

If you find a good eating place at an overnight stop, have a picnic lunch prepared for the next day.

As for lodgings, many of the same rules apply. If you want a motel, you can be choosy — there's always another down the road. Pick one set back from the main highway to avoid traffic noises. If there's a good restaurant near, so much the better.

Check your room. Is it clean, or damp or musty? Is the bed comfortable? How about the bathroom? Lots of towels, a bath mat, and clean drinking glass? Is the room heated or air conditioned? What sort of overnight "neighbors" are you going to have?

Care in choosing your food and lodging add to the pleasure of your trip.

New Hampshire and Indiana are the only states which have no mottos.

Installment plan buying in England is known as the "hire purchasing" system.

Soldiers Field in Chicago has the largest seating capacity of any stadium in America.

Eurone is the second smallest continent in the world.

SEWER BONDS—

The cost of the system to Mokena will be $337,850.

This means that approximately $229,000 will have to be raised thru revenue bonds that would be retired thru water and sewer rates paid by consumers.

At a meeting held recently Mayor John Scarth said it had been estimated that the cost to the taxpayers on the general obligation bonds would amount to approximately five cents a day on a home assessed at $5,000.

The proposed combined minimum rate for sewer and water would be $4 a month for 2,000 gallons.

MOKENA BAPTIST—

portant parts in the success of the project.

"Friends came from Frankfort, New Lenox, Chicago and Homewood and other places to contribute their skills in the building. So many offered and gave help that it is impossible to thank everyone individually but we want all of them to know that we are grateful.

"The Mokena branch of the New Lenox Lumber Co. was another source of great aid. It extended credit to us until we could make loan. Without this help completion of the church would have been delayed many months.

"Finally, we wish to express our sincere gratitude to the clergy of Mokena, who altho busy with their own schedules, found time to be concerned about our church. The Rev. William J. Reimann, pastor of St. John's church has been helpful by way of his mature suggestions and kind fellowship. The Rev. Dale Kleinschmidt, former pastor of the Methodist church was most encouraging thru his fellowship with our congregation in the early days of the church.

"These two men have on occasion asked our church to join in the program of social events for young and old and in the summer bible school. Park View church could not always accept because of the tremendously heavy schedule of our building program but these offers and the occasions when we could join in have helped much to make us 'feel at home' in Mokena."

At the services Sunday afternoon greetings from the Baptist General Conference of America and its sectional division, the Midwest Baptists Conference, will be delivered. The Park View church is affiliated with the Midwest Baptist Conference.

A short concert by the Park View choir will feature the presentation of church history. A noted male quartet, "The Argyles," also will sing.

The Rev. William Gustafson, pastor of the Baptist Temple in Roseland, will deliver the sermon. Following the afternoon service there will be time for fellowship and the Ladies Missionary society has prepared refreshments.

The evening service will be given over to praise and thanksgiving, with opportunity for individuals to give thanks for personal blessings. The Park View choir will sing and the sermon, by the Rev. Lawrence Swanson, executive secretary of the Bible school board of the Baptist General conference, will deal with the part a Sunday school plays in a dedicated church.

The next step... a bedroom phone! Do you have to get out of bed to answer the phone? Nobody—but nobody—should have to do that these days! A bedside phone stops those frantic chases in the dark. Gives a good feeling of protection, too, to have a phone within reach all night long—not to mention the privacy a phone in the bedroom gives during the day. Call the telephone business office and order your bedroom phone today. ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Cub Scouts, den 5 of pack 218 held their regular meeting in the John Cruise home Thursday afternoon. The problem of how to get their coal crystal project to the next pack meeting was or chief concern. The crystals have grown to fabulous size. They have grown over their containers into Mrs. Cruise's cupboard and they are white in color. Plans to visit the 'Mum show in Pilcher Park green house in Joliet next Thursday were discussed. Following the business meeting, den 5 enjoyed a party honoring Gary Andresen and his 8th birthday. Later all enjoyed playing outside.

When the WOTM took over the police and fire departments Saturday, many heretofore law abiding residents of and visitors in Lockport found themselves at the end of the day with police records that would be the envy of any hardened criminal. The ladies arrested for anything they could think up and they thought up plenty. Men who appeared on the streets without neckties were charged with indecent exposure. Hands in their pockets meant concealed weapons. Even Lockport's Chief of Police for all other days of the year was arrested for pulling up in front a fire engine. Cap. John Moltor, of the Isle of Pines, Minn., who is visiting with his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Cup, in Alpine, when questioned about the various charges lodged against him, states, with a twinkle in his eyes, "It was a put up job". I hadn't been in Lockport for 30 years so I decided to take a look around. Right away I was arrested for loitering in front of stores and the bank. When I looked for change to pay my fine I showed a $10 bill and the policewoman immediately lodged three other complaints against me - that of causing her to squeeze my arm three times. Its possible Cap suspects his daughter, Mrs. Culp who was Police Chief for the day, of having something to do with his embarrassment.

Anyway everyone had a good time and it is generally agreed that the ladies had a GOOD racket. By the end of the day they had collected $190 which will go towards the support of Moose heart.

Boob of the Month

THIS ONE IS the boom-boom or ten cent model.

The smartest trick he knows is to stop on a dime.

He approaches a stop sign as if he hadn't seen it until the last instant, thus raising the hair of all other drivers in the vicinity.

He figures distance from the car ahead of him in inches.

Some times the drivers ahead and behind aren't coached in the play.

Then it's boom ahead and boom behind.

When you see a car in the shop with both headlights and tail lights smashed, it's this Boob's, or alas, one of his victims.—Cook County Highways (Published by Cook County Highway Department).

Maurice P. Angland

A short time ago, C. D. Howe, Canada's minister of trade and commerce spoke before the Canadian Club of Chicago on Canadian trade with the United States and the development of the St. Lawrence waterway.

Mr. Howe pointed out that Illinois is the largest single exporter of manufactured goods to Canada. He added that about a quarter of Canada's capital investments are being paid for by imports of capital—chiefly from the United States.

Mr. Howe lauded the constructive imaginations that conceived and carried thru, the development of the St. Lawrence waterway. He expressed the opinion that many do not realize the import of this development now in progress. He compared this development to the discovery of a great navigable river such as the Mississippi. He expressed the opinion that the Chicago area would handle a substantial portion of the traffic using the St. Lawrence waterway.

For a number of years the east coast states fought against development of the St. Lawrence waterway as it meant that ocean going steamers could enter the Great Lakes rather than be forced to use east coast ports which are now a considerable distance from the center of population of the United States. Some of the large labor unions also were opposed to this development.

Labor costs are considerable factor favoring development of ports on the Great Lakes. It has been estimated that labor costs per ton of water borne traffic, are approximately five cents per ton. Railroads are loath to break down traffic costs in this manner, but it is said that costs of railroad labor is many times this amount. The savings of water borne traffic is obvious. This saving would be particularly important to bulk shippers of items such as grain, coal, oil, cement and heavy machinery, etc.

At present some ocean going traffic is entering Lake Michigan, but the traffic volume will rise considerably as the eastern end is completed. The river between Lake Michigan and Lake Calumet has been dredged to 27 feet as has the southern tip of Calumet harbor. The Sag Canal will also be widened and dredged so that it can handle the large barges thru to the Mississippi river. Property values along the Sag Canal already reflect the bright prospects of that channel altho it will be some time before the whole of Sag Canal project will be completed. Industries are, however, anticipating this development and purchasing sites for future use.

There is a considerable fight being waged by various railroads for entry into the Calumet harbor. The Pennsylvania railroad has just purchased the properties of the Calumet Harbor Terminals, Inc. from which purchase they will secure shallow and deep water dockage, piers, warehouses and transit sheds at the junction of Lake Calumet and Calumet river. This area was formerly Pullman owned Calumet Harbor shipyards.

The Pennsylvania, New York Central, Illinois Central and the Chicago South Shore and South Bend railroads have all applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for cross-over rights from the Kensington Yards to the harbor area. This traffic is quite a lure for them.

Lack of space and right of way costs would make it difficult for railroads not already in the area, to enter.

The U.S. baking industry provides a market for about 350 million bushels of wheat annually, millions of pounds of milk, and additional millions of pounds of shortening.

Portable TV sets with 8-inch screens are on the market, suitable for plugging in at cottages and resorts.

Little Bill Has New Job Now--Bulb Salesman

Little Bill is taking on a new chore for Public Service Co.

Used mainly in advertising since his introduction early last year, the utility's spokesman is now helping to show local homemakers how to light up for better living.

In his newest job, Little Bill is the trademark on light bulbs offered to customers under the company's light bulb exchange program. Already appearing on a few bulb styles, he eventually will identify most bulbs on the utility's exchange list.

Under the residential light bulb service rate used by most customers, burned-out bulbs may be turned in for new ones at no extra charge. For unusual sizes or for decorative or special purpose bulbs there is a small exchange charge.

In announcing its new Little Bill bulbs, Public Service Co. also disclosed that refrigerator and oven bulbs will soon be renewable without extra charge.

Guess who needs an automatic Dryer— and why should it be Electric?

The Electric dryer is fully automatic, fume-free, fast and thrifty!

Poor father! If they had an electric dryer he'd have a dozen clean, dry diapers by now. Baby-soft, clean-smelling—the way they always dry in an electric.

Nearest thing there is to sunshine. Electric heat is clean, dry, radiant heat. Fume-free. So everything you dry electrically comes out smelling sweet as clover.

Electric dryers are all fully automatic, and just 6¢ worth of electricity will dry a big load.

Take a look at the new electric dryers soon. You'll notice that all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. (So your laundry area stays clean, dry and comfortable.) Are you listening, father?

Postmaster Gives Tips on How To Speed Delivery of Yule Mail

Postal patrons this coming Christmas season can speed the processing and assure quicker delivery of their Christmas parcels and cards by availing themselves of various postal services and free postal information pamphlets, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

The services mentioned by the postmaster general include:

1. This year, for the first time sealed parcels may be mailed at the third or fourth class postage rates without labels, notations, endorsements, or hieroglyphics of any kind authorizing the opening of the parcels for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials or even with just plain Christmas seals should carry better in the mail than unsealed ones. Strong cord should also be used.

2. Combination mail, which was used for the first time during last Christmas season, and which permits a mailer to enclose a letter or message inside a gift parcel and pay the appropriate postage on it plus the postage for the package itself.

3. Certified mail, also used for the first time in the 1955 season, which permits mailers to have proof of delivery of Christmas letters, cards or parcels having no intrinsic value for a postage fee of 15 cents plus first class postage.

4. Registered mail which provides greater security protection to letters and parcels carrying items of real financial value.

5. Special Delivery mail which is given immediate delivery at the office of address during prescribed hours.

6. Airmail and air parcel post which provides quick delivery of cards and parcels to all sections of the country.

The free postal pamphlets—available at all post offices—are entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing" and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees." Used together, these pamphlets should answer practically all questions any Christmas mailer might have on fees, rates, special services and protection of Christmas parcels in transit.

The postmaster general emphasized the importance of separating local and out of town mail. Free labels for that purpose are available at post offices.

Less Red Tape In Postoffice Says Stans

Deputy Postmaster General Maurice Stans, addressing the National Editorial Association Convention in Chicago Friday afternoon, listed improvements in the post office system by the present administration since 1953.

Stans said there were 80 major improvement simplifications for mailers, reducing red tape. He said the post office system was decentralized into 15 regions and 91 district offices in the largest reorganization ever attempted by government or private business.

Airlifting regular three cent mail on a space available arrangement with airlines has delivered quicker over a billion letters a year at no increase in cost, Stans said. And the installation of later pickups did away with leaving over a million letters a day all night in mailboxes.

Post office window hours in larger cities were extended and modern rural developments were substituted for 3,400 outmoded country post offices. City delivery was expanded to 5,000,000 new suburban and urban dwellers and 25,000 new businesses thru the addition of 15,000 city carriers.

Further improvements, Stans said, were the building of 1,400 new post offices with private capital, the modernization of the transportation pattern to use trucks, buses, and highway post offices.

And in 43 large post offices,

Stans stated, a work standards pare the efficiency of each post program was started to com- office.

Hungarians Need Immediate Aid

The tragedy in Hungary calls for immediate help from America and the program of CROP is being stepped up to contribute everything possible to alleviate suffering. CROP officials declared. Elvin D. Frantz, state director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program, urges all CROP workers over the state to work harder to make as complete canvass as possible, both among farmers and people in towns. The CROP drive is already in progress in some areas but the main drive will take place during Thanksgiving week.

When the way opened, Church World Service immediately moved into Hungary with supplies of clothing and CROP foods. They report that the churches were able to send the last nine truck convoy of relief goods to Budapest on the Friday before invasion, returning safely on Saturday.

"As this report is written, 20,000 refugees, mostly women and children, have moved from Hungary to Austria," CROP officials said. "Five thousand are coming every night. CROP foods will be administered by our church workers among these people. The amount of help we are able to give will depend upon how thankful the American people are this Thanksgiving when they sit down to their bountiful meals and remember those who do not even have a crust of bread—those who are in this condition because they wanted freedom."

Gifts to the program of CROP and Church World Service may be given thru the local CROP drives or sent directly to CROP, 100 W. Adams St., Springfield.

Make Time on Dual Highways

On a recent automobile trip from downtown Springfield to Chicago's Loop, via US 66—now a dual highway—the travel time of a driver making a test was 3 hours 40 minutes.

Travel time from Springfield to Chicago by rail is 3 hours 15 minutes; by air, 1 hour 10 minutes. However, additional time is required to get to and from the railroad stations and airports.

During his daytime trip, the test driver's maximum speed on the open highway was 65 miles per hour. But all speed limits of 45, 35 and 30 m.p.h. posted near bypassed cities and towns, were observed.

Recent completion of Illinois' newest divided four lane highway—Chicago to St. Louis—makes the time of motor travel in about the same ratio for the 299 mile run on US 66, as for the 194 miles between Springfield and Chicago, the Motor Club points out.

Commenting on the Springfield-Chicago run, the Motor Club said the mileage is the same as before the opening several weeks ago of the 42½ miles of dual highway from Gardner to Welco Corners, converging points of US 66 and Alt. 66.

What puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of FORD?

Here's what puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of Ford!

It's the sculptured look. You'll see it the moment your eyes wander over this fine car. In a '57 Ford you belong . . . anywhere.

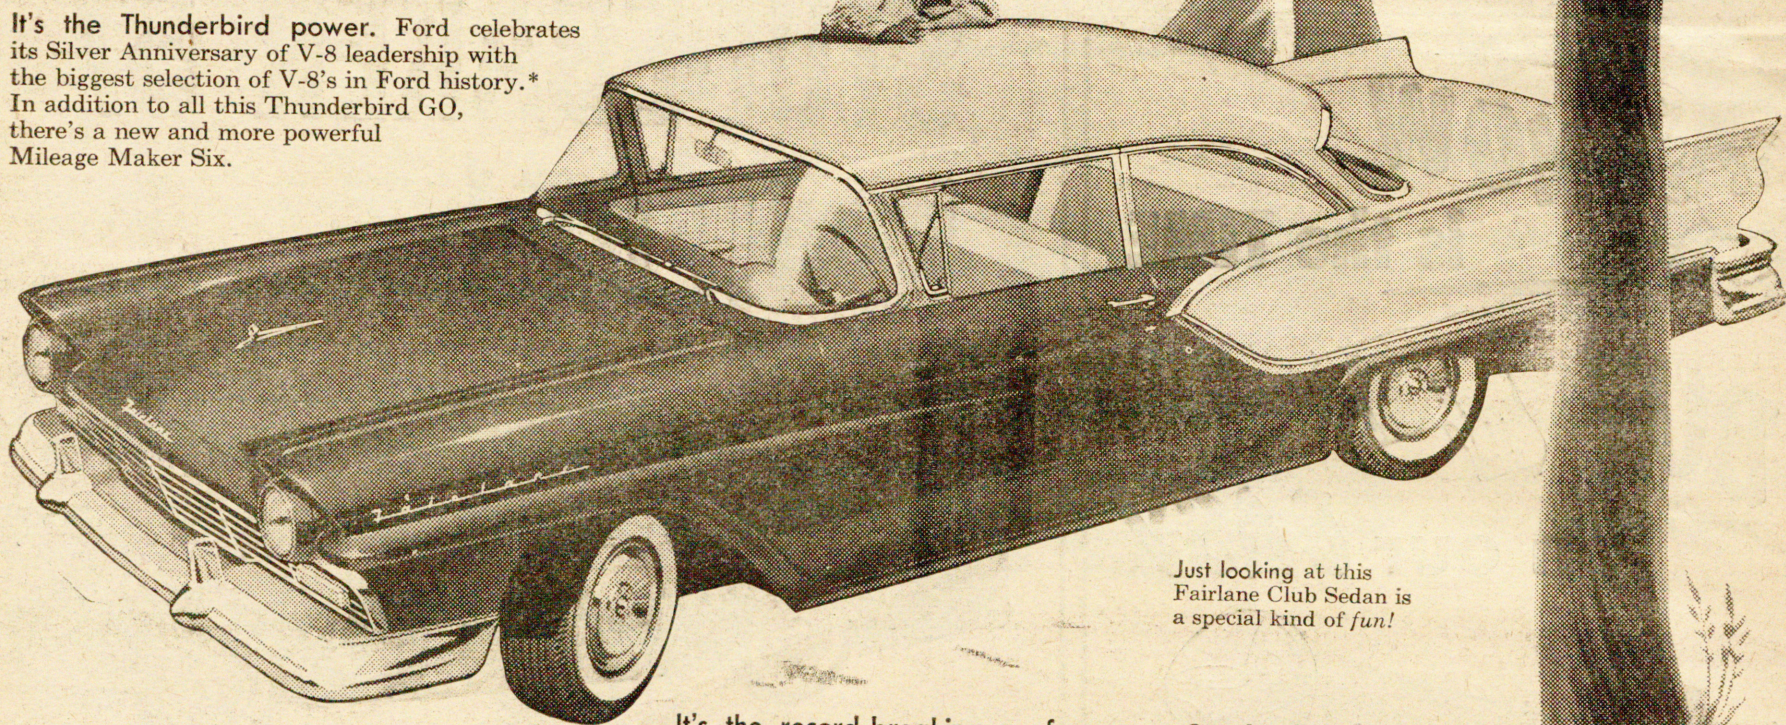

It's the long, lean lines. There's a greyhound grace to this Ford. No useless "fat," no showy "padding." It's as trim as a jet fighter.

It's the hardtop styling. Fairlane sedans have the hardtop look of Victorias! Superthin, superstrong center pillars are smartly concealed to give hardtop beauty when doors are closed.

It's the freedom of choice. Colors? Fabrics? Accessories? Far more than that! Ford gives you a choice of two new, bigger sizes . . . longer, lower, roomier!

It's the ride that stays gentle. With a new frame that rides sweeter and lower, new springs, new suspension all around, even the rudest roads can't ruffle the poise of the new Ford.

It's the Thunderbird power. Ford celebrates its Silver Anniversary of V-8 leadership with the biggest selection of V-8's in Ford history.* In addition to all this Thunderbird GO, there's a new and more powerful Mileage Maker Six.

*"Six or V-8, the going is great!"*Just looking at this Fairlane Club Sedan is a special kind of fun!It's the record-breaking performance. On the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, a '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days . . . an average speed of 108.16 mph, including all pit stops! Another Ford averaged over 107 mph. Altogether, 458 national and international performance records were smashed as Ford rewrote the record book.

It's the big dollar value that lasts and lasts. Styled for tomorrow, a new Ford keeps its value longer. And wonder of wonders, all this extra strength, extra beauty, extra length is yours at low Ford prices!

*Included is a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 delivering up to 285-hp.Wise man say: "Don't wait for TOMORROW*when you can get it today!"*'57 FORD

First be reconciled to thy brother. (Matthew 5:24)

Many of us have difficulty feeling a real sense of inner peace. This truth stands out—we cannot build a fence around a little world of our own creation and thereby achieve peace. Isolation only adds to the maze or unrest within us. God made us creatures who need fellowship; we need one another. Our main problem is living in such a way as to be a blessing to others.

One of the greatest helps in achieving inner peace is to make sure that the line between ourselves and our fellow men is cleared of all human meanness that keeps us from God. According to Jesus, we cannot have God's blessings when there is a grievance between neighbors and ourselves.

Reconciliation brings a lift to living. More than that, it opens many adventurous new ways that lead us into the presence of our good, loving, and kind heavenly Father.

Often the price we pay for reconciliation is terrific. But the prize we gain is the peace of God which passes all understanding.

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, give us largeness of heart to mend the wrongs we have done against thee and our fellow men. Lead us to thy blessed altar of peace. In the name of Christ, our Redeemer, we ask it. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Christ is our peace.

International Gets Ready For 57th Stock Show

The International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock yards—the nation's largest show building—is being readied to house the continent's largest show.

The 57th International live stock exposition and horse show will be held there Nov. 23 to Dec. 1 and in a large area of the adjoining Stock Yards.

It is expected to attract more than 10,000 of the world's finest farm animals in competition for $100,000 in cash prizes and the coveted renown that prize winners attain.

Greater emphasis will be placed this year on the Exposition's carcass competitions, wherein prime meat animals are judged alive and their carcasses then evaluated after slaughter.

The prize winning carcasses will be on view to show visitors in a specially constructed refrigerated glass-enclosed trailer; and the champion carcasses of beef, pork and lamb will be auctioned as a feature of the Tuesday Horse Show, November 27, before an audience of 10,000.

Farm youth will be in the limelight the first two days of the show. A national 4-H live stock judging contest will start the activities of the week on Friday, November 23, and the junior livestock feeding contest, where farm boys and girls will exhibit beef cattle and hogs of their own raising, will be held on Nov. 24, as will the exposition's collegiate live stock judging contest in which agricultural college students match their skill in livestock judging.

Star feature of the International horse show, scheduled for 14 performances, will be the world-famed Royal Canadian Mounted Police musical ride, consisting of 36 riders in scarlet coats on matching black horses. It will be the first time this famous precision riding event has ever appeared in Chicago. New and spectacular jumping courses have been constructed this year which the horse show management predicts will add much spectacular interest and color to each performance.

Colgate Clock in New York harbor, with an illuminated dial 36 feet in diameter is the largest clock in the world.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How Christ Jesus healed sickness and discord of every kind will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, Nov. 18.

The Master's healing of the woman who had "a spirit of infirmity" eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself." (Luke 13), will be included in the scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following selection will be among those read (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

PTG MEETING

Members of the Lincoln-Way PTA assembled in the cafeteria for the November meeting Wednesday night enjoyed a fun, informative evening.

Frank Goetschel, building superintendent, spoke to the group on some of the behind-the-scenes activities which are necessary for the school plant to function efficiently. The seven general areas he covered were 1) the heating and ventilating system, 2) the electrical system, 3) the drinking water supply, 4) transportation, 5) sewage disposal plant, 6) laundry and 7) the building and grounds.

The entire maintenance program is run according to the preventive maintenance procedure practiced by most large companies. Each piece of equipment is regularly checked, under this system, and repairs made to defective parts before a complete failure occurs.

Some of the figures given in regards to expense and consumption were as follows:

Fifty to 60-thousand gallons of fuel oil are consumed annually; 2½ million gallons of water are used every year; ½ ton of washing machine soap is used in the laundering of the towels, cafeteria dish towels, cleaning cloths and athletic equipment; 60 gallons of floor wax are applied to the floors; 15 gallons of fly spray are used in an effort to eradicate the pests; 30 gallons of window cleaner are consumed. In the course of a school year 37,000 towels are laundered. The electricity bill amounts to some $5,000 yearly.

Following Mr. Goetschel, Sgt. Frank Collier of the army recruiting service, Joliet, spoke to the parents. He explained the advantages to a boy in enlisting in the reserves on the eight year plan. Under this plan, he would not be bothered by the military until either he graduated from high school, quit school, or reached his twentieth birthday. After serving six months basic training, he might continue plans of college marriage, or employment while still fulfilling his military obligation by attending weekly reserve meetings. In case of war, he would be called into active service at the rank he currently holds in the reserves.

Several members of the auxiliary force of the Will county Forest Rangers were in attendance explaining briefly some of their duties and soliciting recruits.

Following these talks, the regular business meeting was conducted with Mrs. Laufer presiding.

Orland Park Unit

The Orland Park PTA of the Southwest Suburban Area, District 19 met in the school library, Wednesday evening, Nov. 7 with Mrs. Joseph Kaiser presiding.

The Girl Scouts led the Pledge of Allegiance after which the room count was taken. The first and sixth grades tied for the room award. Mrs. Orville Schmaedeke, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, announced the coming of the "Christmas Decorations" Demonstration to be presented by Bob and Eudora Watkins of the Tinley Park Flower shop, in the school gym, Wednesday, Nov. 28, at 8 p.m. Tickets are available now and can also be purchased the evening of the program. Refreshments and awards will also be included and Mrs. Schmaedeke invites the public to attend.

After the business meeting Mrs. Vernon Peterson of Palos Heights who gave an interesting review of the book "The Episode of Sparrows" by Godden. A social hour followed with refreshments served by the sixth grade mothers.

FIND YOUR "BLIND" SPOT

Most of us have been accused at one time or another of having a blind spot and it's true—at least technically, the Murine Company of Chicago says. To find yours, simply mark a small dot on a piece of paper and an inch or two away, mark a cross. Now, move the paper slowly back and forth from your eye. You will find that at some point the cross will "disappear"—and you will have found your blind spot.

Lions Push Sales of Fruit Cake

The Mokena Lions are busy these days selling fruit cake. Proceeds from the sale will be used by the Lions in furthering their Community park playground project. Pictured here are the team captains, (l to r) Ray Westlund, Everett Cooper, Charles Swanberg, Ralph Thompson, Roy Richardson and John Hubler. The teams that sell the most fruit cake will be dinner guests of the club at the January meeting. As of this writing the team headed by Westlund is out in front with the teams of Cooper and Thompson running close up. The Lions figure that with Thanksgiving and Christmas before them the demand for fruit cake is at its peak for the year.

Since the end of World War II, the U.S. has been engaged in the greatest expansion of productive capacity in its history. In a single decade our capacity to produce increased more than 50 per cent.

Educational Program

Whenever, in the course of any activity whatsoever, we stop to consider as explicitly as we can what it is that we are doing, how we are doing it, and why, that act of considering is philosophy. Basically, the philosophy of education at Carl Sandburg high school is to take each boy and girl, begin at the achievement level at which they arrive at high school and advance as far and as rapidly as possible with each of them individually.

Each child is an individual person—a living, growing human being—with the right to security and happiness. Carl Sandburg high school is organized and conducted to help every child who enters to live wholesomely and in a way that is fundamentally and lastingly satisfying.

Scientists say that of the myriads of people who inhabit the earth, no two ever exist who are exactly alike. Therefore, in view of the fact that pupils come to us who have attained different achievement levels, who have different wants, needs, respond and react differently as they are placed in various situations, it is necessary that our program be geared entirely to the needs of the individual.

Each incoming ninth grade student receives a comprehensive achievement test and an intelligence test which are compared with his elementary achievement records. From this information the student is placed in a class where he will continue his studies on his own level and with students of similar achievement success. These students may proceed as fast as their abilities permit. Basically, students are divided into three sections; accelerated, normal and retarded. In many classes the three sections are using the same books, but the accelerated classes move much faster and do extra work outside class in the library or with supplementary material.

Students, by actual participation in student government, are developing into good American citizens. The extra-curricular program, which is not allowed sponsored by these organizations present the opportunity to each student to develop socially at the same time he is developing mentally.

In order to work toward the development of each individual student to the maximum of his potentialities, it is necessary to have a first-class teaching staff. The entire midwest was combed the past year to secure teaching candidates. Teachers are selected on the basis of their training, experience and their approach to teaching and to students.

With the mental, physical and social growth provided by the school, it is the final aim of the school to present to society young men and women who are ready to take their places of responsibility in making America the home that we dream of. If future education in college is the student's goal, then Carl Sandburg strives to send them to college with the very best background possible. If high school represents the end of formal education, we aim to provide the student with a broad base from which additional apprentice training or on-the-job experiences will permit rapid

Until the present time all students who went out for a sport and abided by the established regulations and rules was allowed to remain out regardless of how good or bad he might be. It is felt that the satisfaction the student received by participating was valuable to him as an individual.

Besides a comprehensive sport program, a well rounded program of club activities is carried on at Carl Sandburg. There is a strong Girl's Athletic Association, Student Council, Future Nurses, Future Teachers, Student Librarians, Science, Pep, and Foreign Language clubs and many others to allow the student to participate in some school activity other than classroom work. that's THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

If you ever sit as a juror thru a hard fought trial, you will probably be impressed with the frequent objections raised by the lawyers to the other side's questions and evidence. Many of us who observe, this come away with the belief that most objections are frivolous, and the rules of legal evidence are outmoded relics of days gone by, serving only to exclude proper evidence for technical reasons which are no longer valid.

The rules of evidence law enforced in Illinois courts are a product of many years of experience and growth. These rules are found in the statutes enacted by the Illinois legislature, and in the decisions of the Illinois supreme and appellate courts. If we understand several of the more basic principles underlying our evidence law, we will more readily appreciate why lawyers make objections during trial, and why the judge often sustains objections and excludes testimony or evidence.

Relevancy and Materiality

First, evidence must be relevant to the issues raised in the case, and material to their determination. When a lawyer objects that evidence is "immaterial" or "irrelevant," he means that the evidence has nothing to do with the facts which are in dispute in the case, or that the evidence has no value in helping the judge or jury resolve the fact issues. He contends that the evidence offered is beside the point. For example, if the question raised in the case is whether Joe Hill was careless in driving his car on June 12, when he ran into John Carey's auto, it is irrelevant that Joe is careful in using a rifle, and it is immaterial that John's car is green. Thus, the principle of relevancy is a time saver, and helps to keep the trial free from unimportant and misleading evidence.

Reliability Hearsay

The second basic principle is that of reliability. The most important application of this principle is in the so called "Hearsay Rule." When a lawyer asserts that testimony is "hearsay," he means that the witness is testifying to what someone previously told him, to prove that the previous statement is true. The witness has no personal knowledge of the facts he is testifying to; all he can say is that someone else told him that this is true. Hearsay testimony is excluded because of its fundamentally unreliable character, and because the other party to the case has no opportunity to cross examine the person who has personal knowledge of the facts.

Authenticity

The third basic principle of evidence law is that of authenticity. When a lawyer objects that "the proper foundation has not been laid" for testimony or documents offered, he means that it has not yet been shown that the evidence is authentic, the "real thing." For example, if an account book is to be introduced into evidence, the lawyer may not simply hand it to the judge or jury and say, "This is my client's daily ledger." First, he must have his client's accountant, or ledger clerk, take the witness stand, identify the book and testify as to how entries were made during the normal course of business. The other party to the case may cross examine as to this preliminary testimony. Thus, requiring a "foundation" helps insure against the introduction of false or inaccurate evidence.

Many volumes have been written on the subject of evidence law, and the myriad of evidence problems which can arise during a trial staggers the imagination. But these three principles are the basis for much of our evidence law in Illinois, and their soundness can be appreciated by one and all.

(This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.)

Cheer Up! Only 110 Freezing Days in Year

(CNS)—The weather bureau says the week which began Monday, Nov. 12, could well be designated Long Underwear Week in the Chicago area.

Below freezing temperatures can be expected to come regularly from now on, the weatherman says.

If it seems to be getting too cold too fast, the weather bureau points out that in other years we have had freezing weather as early as Sept. 25, when in 1942 the mercury dipped to 30. And on the same date, Sept. 25 in 1941, there was snow. And on Oct. 28, 1925, an early season cold spell sent thermometers down to 19 in Chicago with suburban temperatures at the 10 above mark. In some parts of northern Illinois that day there were six inches of snow on the ground and the temperature was down to near zero.

On the other hand, in 1931 the first below freezing weather didn't come until Nov. 24.

During the coming season, Chicago area residents can expect 110 days with a temperature below freezing—but only eight with temperatures of zero or lower, according to past weather records.

If we get weather such as we had last winter, however, the temperature will not go below zero at all.

The earliest occurrence of a below zero reading was on Nov. 23, 1950 when the temperature fell to one below. The latest date was March 22, 1878, also with a one below reading.

The lowest ever recorded was 23 below zero on Dec. 24, 1872; but the coldest day was Jan. 25, 1897 with an average temperature of 15 below zero. The high that day was 10 below and the low 20 below! The lowest temperature in recent years was the 15 below recorded on Feb. 2, 1951.

I-W Pilot School In Research Project on Teaching Methods

The Lincoln-Way high school staff spent an interesting and informative day in its first workshop session of the fall on Nov. 7. This year Lincoln-Way selected local research as its workshop theme. The Illinois curriculum program, under the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, is furnishing consultant help to the school.

Lincoln-Way will serve as a pilot school in this project. The purpose of local research is to encourage more systematic and scientific evaluation of teaching techniques and content in the classroom.

The program Wednesday involved a day run research project in which all teachers had an opportunity to participate. Earl Dieken, Lincoln-Way's curriculum Director, felt that the teachers' reaction was very favorable and that the workshop was a success.

Taxpayers Federation Tells Story of Your Property Tax Bill

By Maurice W. Scott
Acting Executive Sec.

The inequity of assessing a property actually worth $10,000 in one township at $2,500, and another of equal value at $5,000 in another township of the same county, may be corrected under Illinois statutes. Various county officials, in addition to boards of review, have certain revisionary powers over assessments made by local assessors.

One of these officials is the county treasurer who is ex-officio supervisor of assessments in all counties except Cook, any county having an elected board of assessors, or any county where a supervisor of assessments has been appointed by the county board.

The county assessor of Cook county is elected and has certain revisionary powers. When a county reaches 150,000 population but less than 500,000, the county board may by resolution submit to the voters the question of whether a board of assessors of 5 members should be elected—only St. Clair county has created this board. The office of supervisor of assessments may be created by the county board in counties under 150,000 inhabitants—15 counties have created this office.

The supervisor of assessment made by the local assessor, but the taxpayer affected must be given an opportunity to be heard if the change results in an increase. However, the Illinois supreme court has held that publication of the assessment list as required by law and the opportunity to be heard thereafter by the board of review satisfy this requirement.

The board of assessors in St. Clair county meets the first Monday of June each year to revise the assessment of real property and on the third Monday of June each year to revise the assessment of personal property. Upon application of the taxpayer, or upon its own motion, the board of assessors may revise the assessments to the extent it deems just. The board shall finish its revisions on or before July 1.

In Cook county the office of county assessor has been established and the township assessors are ex-officio deputy assessors under his direction. The Cook county assessor may annually revise and correct assessments that appear to him to need revision.

(Next issue will discuss the equalization work within a county by boards of review and appeal.)

Testing Day

Wednesday, Nov. 14, was testing day at Lincoln-Way. Tests were given to members of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. The freshmen had been quite thoroughly tested last spring on Step-Up day.

The senior class took the strong vocational interest tests, which covers forty-five occupations in eleven different areas for boys and twenty-seven occupations for women. In addition to scores interest maturity, occupational level, and masculinity-minority.

The juniors were given the tests in the Illinois statewide testing program from the University of Illinois. The tests are a measure of reading comprehension, writing skills, and abstract and verbal reading.

Sophomores worked with the differential aptitude tests which include areas of verbal reasoning, numerical reasoning, abstract reasoning, space relations, mechanical reasoning, clerical speed and accuracy, and language usage.

Results of these tests are used to help students select occupations and courses of study.

Future Nurses

The Future Nurses of America held their district meeting at Lincoln-Way high school on Oct. 7 with members and sponsors from fourteen schools present. Represented were Joliet, Lockport, Plainfield, Dwight, Gardner, Peotone, Morris, Wilmette, Orland Park, Blue Island, Park Forest, Naperville, St. Francis academy, and Lincoln-Way.

Reports were made on the activities of each club. Mrs. Alice Gorman, sponsor of the Lincoln-Way chapter, described their program in which members of the club under her supervision and that of the public health nurse take charge of the health department. Miss Shier, public relations head at Silver Cross hospital, helped make plans for a newsletter and for organizing a district conference. The committee for organizing this association will meet at Joliet township high school Nov. 13 at 3:45 p.m.

Future Teachers

Saturday, Oct. 20, four members and three sponsors from the Abe Lincoln Future Teachers of America attended the workshop of the northeast region of the IAFTE at Evergreen Park. The students were divided into workshop groups, Jackie McGinnis and Linda Matasovic attended fund raising projects, Helen Sheridan, club programs, and Pat Boleman, educational projects. In the afternoon the principal speaker was the Rev. Benjamin F. Burns, pastor of the Austin Boulevard Christian church at Oak Park. His topic was "There Is a Future in Teaching."

To end the program an invitation was extended to the IAFTE to hold its 1957 annual northeast region meeting at Lincoln-Way. The organization will hold its tenth anniversary in April 1957, and the state convention will be held at Normal university.

GAA Workshop

Marna Harnack is general chairman of the workshop to be held at Lincoln-Way high school December 1 for the executive boards of the Girls' Athletic Associations of the conference schools. The program will include a discussion of problems common to G.A.A. Executive Board, i.e., point systems, initiations, program activities, election of officers, and selection of camp representatives.
